

SOURCEBOOK

The Perfect Indoor-Outdoor Sconce and More Products We're Coveting This Week

Architectural Digest's market department shares their favorites

TEXT BY KATHRYN GIVEN

Posted March 27, 2017

Throughout the year, Architectural Digest's market department scours showrooms, stores, fairs, and design centers for the best new products on the market. Each week, they'll bring their favorites to AD PRO. From rugs to wallpaper to furniture and lighting, these are the items our editors are eyeing. This week, Associate Market Editor Kathryn Given shares her favorites.

Photo: Brian W. Ferry

Ria by Raf Simons for Kvadrat

A favorite fabric from Raf Simons's new collection for Kvadrat, which was launched this week in a display at the National Academy of Design, Ria is a subtle abstracted-dot motif that comes in 15 colorways.

Photo: Courtesy of Maison Gerard

Gae chair by Achille Salvagni

Complete with hand-engraved cast bronze feet and a sumptuous silhouette, the limited-edition armchair is now on display in the designer's London showroom and available through Maison Gerard in New York.

Photo: Courtesy of Tai Ping

Skyfall III by Andre André Fu for Tai Ping

Fleeting city scenes and urban environments inspired André Fu's dynamic new Scenematic rug collection for Tai Ping. This tactical pattern incorporates silk, wool and steele in rich, moody tones.

Nesting tables by Yabu Pushelberg for Henge

Making their debut in Milan next month, these elegant all metal nesting tables by design duo George Yabu and Glenn Pushelberg for Henge are available in polished brass and bronze.

Photo: Courtesy of Halo Home

Linens from Halo Home by Kimberly Schlegel Whitman

Available in punchy hues with beautiful designs, these monogrammed Halo Home napkins and placemats have me dinner party dreaming.

Photo: Anne Chandler

Rex Sconce by Urban Electric

Elevated lighting also coded for outdoor use is not always easy to find, but Urban Electric's new Rex sconce is the ideal sculptural piece for the powder room or porch.