Top 100 Suites

Whether you value magnificent views or a private beach, a remote lodge or a city spa, The Elite Traveler Collection has you covered.
Elite Luxury Homes

FROM PORSCHE’S FIRST ENDEAVOR IN REAL ESTATE TO A NEW RESIDENCE BY THAILAND’S LEADING PROPERTY DEVELOPER, WE LOOK AT THE LATEST LUXURY HOMES WITH THE MOST EXCITING DESIGN

UNITED STATES
50 United Nations Plaza, New York City
As the first residential tower in the United States by Foster + Partners — designed in partnership with Zeckendorf Development and Global Holdings — 50 United Nations Plaza is said to set a new standard for luxury living in New York City. The 10,000 sq ft duplex penthouse is the pinnacle of the development, with a wealth of unique characteristics and luxury amenities, including a hand-crafted stainless steel staircase, an infinity-edge pool and a living room that stretches across 75 ft with views of the East River, UN Secretariat, Empire State Building and the Chrysler Building. The tower also houses a luxury spa with a 75 ft pool, and a private landscaped motor court. Ultimately, this is a property that combines exceptional luxury with an enviable location.

Penthouse $70m, contact: Jill Mangone, director of sales, jmangone@zeckendorfmarketing.com, +1 212 906 0550, 50unp.com

101 Pheasant Lane, Southampton, New York
Located in the Hamptons, this unique property stands out for its contemporary interior, designed by Achille Salvagni Atelier. Just known for creating the interiors of luxury yachts, the designer has now turned his expertise to this 15,000 sq ft new-build estate, that combines the shingle-style architecture that’s typical of this setting with glamorous modern interiors. Each detail of the interior design, from the furnishings to the fabrics and artworks has been overseen by the lauded designer with a palette of pastels representing the 1940s and 50s on the Amalfi Coast, along with limited edition furniture and chandeliers. Materials have been sourced from Italy, from the marble and wood to the bronze fittings and upholstery. Along with its nine bedrooms and 11 bathrooms, the residence houses a screening room, wine cellar, and a gym and movement studio, as well as a sauna.

$28m, contact: Harald Grant, associate broker, harald.grant@sothebys.com, +1 613 227 4913, sothebys.com